

OCEAN OF SOUND

SACRED SOUND BATH

WILLIAM

WAND

William holds sacred sound baths to share the direct experience of Self realization. Reminding us how close God and our inherent divinity always is. Naturally initiating healing and activation. Grace.

"an audio-physical experience like no other"

"When I experience God it comes through the vehicle of Light and Sound. A manifestation of the Living Word in perfect Glory. The singing bowls reflect this sound so beautifully. Mystically and yet naturally connecting and opening us up to the highest within ourselves. All of these sounds, including God, are within each of us.

My purpose is as a simple reminder, effortlessly facilitating Self realization so we can be comfortable in our own skin and authentically live our role fully. Breaking the stagnation of fear, confusion, and division that has encompassed our consciousness until now. Self realization is the way out of chaos; it is the "Truth that sets us free"... miraculous by nature, and intimately closer than each breath."

With a collection of 37 singing bowls, including crystal alchemy (infused with an element, mineral, or gemstone), antique Himalayan bowls (some dating to the 1500's), tuned 36" gong and much more, William intuitively tunes in to the energy of the room and raises the vibration to God. Revealing the vast infinite Ocean of Sound, the vast infinite Ocean of existence that you're are. Divine by nature.

The more we remember, the less we forget...
